

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION IN SESSION AT CHICAGO

FIRST FLASHLIGHT PHOTOGRAPH MADE AS CONVENTION WAS BEING CALLED TO ORDER.

gloom is the appalling prospect of listening to the numerous nominating speeches which loom ominously over the horizon of to-morrow.

Chairman Harding called the convention to order at 11:25 o'clock and after a prayer by Mr. Francis G. Kelley, the band played "Rock of Ages" with a chime accompaniment. Senator Smoot on credentials, took the platform and read the report of the committee, which was approved.

The temporary organization of the convention was made permanent to the great delight of various Middle West politicians who see a chance of putting Senator Harding over as a dark horse.

As Senator Harding stepped forward to take charge of the convention he was the recipient of a near ovation that was plainly manufactured. The whoop up boys were planted in various delegations and through the hall, and they had to do so much work without assistance from the convention that they were soon spotted. Perhaps it is worthy of note that Senator Harding wore a sack suit to-day. Yesterday when he created the war the orator's long cut-away coat. Without discredit to Senator Harding it may be said that the crowd was grateful to him for the words of thanks he limited himself. This thing of making the temporary organization permanent is most commendable because it cuts out a long speech by the permanent chairman.

The convention voted to give the delegates from Hawaii, Alaska and Porto Rico the right to vote, and this adds six votes to the roll. A statesman named Daniel Warner from Michigan seized upon the opportunity offered him as chairman of the committee on Rules to absorb some of the spotlight. After he had read the rules adopted by the committee he recited them all over again in a speech which appeared to give him much pleasure.

Here the convention paid a deserved honor to the old New York warhorse, Chauncey M. Depew. At the request of forty-eight States the venerable but sturdy Senator was called to the platform. He was escorted from the New York delegation

HERE'S THE CUT PLUG FOR YOU!

U. S. Marine a Tremendous Success with New York Smokers

GREATEST SMOKE VALUE

The appearance of U. S. Marine on the New York market a year ago took cut plug smokers by storm.

They tried the tobacco and found it the top-notch for cut plugs—and they proceeded to make U. S. Marine their favorite smoke.

Is it any wonder U. S. Marine is today so popular that its sales are growing faster than those of all other cut plug brands put together?

The leaf used in U. S. Marine is famous old Burley—choice and ripe—aged for 8 to 10 years to develop all its mellow, wholesome smoothness and sweetness.

That's why U. S. Marine makes the most satisfying smoke you ever packed in your pipe. Burns cool and slow, with a wonderfully pleasing flavor and fragrance.

by Ex-Secretary of War Stimson and Speaker Sweet of the Assembly and entertained the crowd in his characteristic way.

The convention applauded Mr. Depew's reference to the victories of Republican diplomacy.

"The world has always understood up until now," said he.

His reference to the President as "the Professor" brought roars of laughter.

The mention of Elihu Root brought scattering applause and cheers. It was the first mention of the name of one of the Republican candidates.

"We are entering upon this canvass either with an assertion of Americanism that will keep us out of it, or a mollycoddle policy that will put us into it."

Mr. Depew spoke thirty minutes. His parting shot was that if the convention fails to trouble over any question before it the delegates should call on the elder statesmen and he was one of them.

Chairman Harding introduced former Speaker Cannon as "Grand Old Uncle Joe."

"Chauncey," said Uncle Joe, turning to Mr. Depew, "I am coming to your hundredth anniversary." The crowd laughed.

When he got to discussing Americanism Mr. Cannon practically repeated the "melting pot" speech he delivered several months ago in the House during the passage of the Immigration Bill.

"When I turn to a pacific," said he, resuming, "I turn to a leading exponent, my friend, Mr. Bryan, who is here in the hall."

The former Secretary was in the press stand as a newspaper correspondent and sat smiling at the reference to himself and the laughter that followed.

"We fell out from the personal standpoint largely four years ago," said Cannon, "but there is not going to be any further falling out, because this convention will nominate a worthy ticket, and it will be elected."

"This year we'll have no shillaboh from anybody," he said. "The country is bigger than any man or set of men."

Mr. Cannon closed by predicting that the "gates of hell" would not prevail against the Republican platform if it were made broad enough to cover all Americans.

Chairman Harding then presented Senator Borah of Idaho. There was a good bit of a demonstration for him. Borah, numbered among the Progressive Republicans, made a plea for a straight Republicanism.

"Make it broad enough for all who want to come," said he. "The rest we do not care. Our pathway as a party is clear, it will not shrink the responsibility of maintaining the rights of their station among the nations of the world."

When Senator Borah concluded his speech the convention took a recess until 4 o'clock.

WOMEN SHOUT FOR PEACE UNDER EMPEROR'S WINDOW

Austrians Make Demonstration Before Schoenbrunn Castle—Machine Guns Placed in Position.

LONDON, June 8.—An Amsterdam despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that peace demonstrators, most of whom were women, marched from Vienna Monday evening to Schoenbrunn Castle, the residence of the Emperor, and demanded a separate peace with Russia.

A number of the women managed to avoid the police and entered the castle grounds where they shouted their demands beneath the windows of the Emperor's private apartments. They were arrested and the castle guard was later equipped with machine guns.

U. S. TROOPS TO PEKING.

Will be Moved From Tien-Tsin to Protect Americans, Is Reported.

LONDON, June 8.—An Exchange Telegraph despatch from Tien-Tsin, China, says that the United States troops at that place have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to proceed to Peking. It is assumed, as are feared through the change of government following the death of Yuan Shih Kai, protection is to be afforded Americans.

The despatch also says the French authorities already have despatched a group force of native troops from the French Protectorate of Annam to Peking to protect French interests.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Twelve hundred men of the Fifteenth Infantry under Col. Harry Hale, stationed at Tien Tsin and along the railroad between Tien Tsin and Peking and a legion guard of 300 machines constitute the American military force in China.

BANKER DIES SUDDENLY.

J. B. Wise of Watertown Stricken at Atlantic City.

ATLANTIC CITY, June 8.—James B. Wise, banker, of Watertown, N. Y., dropped dead at the Hotel Strand last night. Heart disease was given as the cause. He had been ill for several months.

Mr. Wise was sixty-four years old, and was president of the J. B. Wise Company. He leaves a wife and two sons.

Swiss Team to Play Abroad.

PAWBUCKET, R. I., June 8.—President John A. Penney of the United States Football Association, announced to-day that $10,000 had been received from the Swedish Football Association to bind the series of matches to be played in Sweden and Norway in July.

The American team is scheduled to sail for Gothenburg on June 20.

Coconut Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last every one in the family for months.—Advt.

$3,000,000,000 LOAN TO AID GERMANY IN WAR

Struggle Now Costs Teutons $500,000,000 a Month, Reichstag Is Told.

LONDON, June 8.—A Berlin despatch states that the Reichstag has passed the budget at all stages, and has adopted the new war credit of $5,000,000,000.

A Reuter despatch says that, in the discussion of the war credit, Count von Roeder, Secretary of the Imperial Treasury, stated that the monthly war expenditure from January to May was under $500,000,000, and that the new credit would cover the probable requirements for six months. He added that France's expenditure was almost as high as Germany's, while Great Britain's was half as much again.

POLICE IN GARBAGE COMEDY.

Suit Shows 75 Have Been Busted Guarding Wrong Plant Site.

When briefs were submitted yesterday to Supreme Court Justice Craggie in Brooklyn in the suit brought by Mrs. Janet P. Doyle for an injunction to restrain seventy-five policemen from remaining on Lake's Island, the supposed site of the city's garbage disposal plant, it developed that the police occupied Lake's Island because rioting was threatened around the site of the new plant. Decision on Mrs. Doyle's application was reserved.

MOOSERS DODGE CONSCRIPTION AND THE HYPHENATES

"Pussyfooting" on the Latter and "Weasel Words" on a Universal Military Service.

CHICAGO, June 8.—The platform of the Progressives has practically been completed. Further amendment by Oyster Bay is possible when it is recognized that on two issues which Roosevelt has definitely emphasized the planks are what might be characterized as "pussyfooted." There is no reference to hyphenates, and the plank dealing with "universal military service" goes into the "weasel word" division in that "conscription" is studiously avoided.

The platform declares that the supreme duty of civilization is to make peace permanent after the war, for which this nation should be prepared in every sphere. Regarding military preparedness, the platform declares for "a navy restored to at least second rank in battle efficiency," a standing army of 250,000 men, and "a system of universal military training—a citizen soldiery—controlled by the National Government."

Regarding Mexico, the platform asserts that "every resource of the Government should be forthwith used to end these conditions."

Linked with their declaration for a stronger military establishment, the Progressives assert that industrial efficiency, a "passing of prosperity about," and a social justice imperative. Regulation of industry and a non-partisan tariff commission are declared to be essential to meet with the mobilized production of Europe following the war.

The platform says: "This is the year of decision for the nation's future. As we now decide, so shall we go forward in righteousness and power or backward in degradation and weakness."

"Of necessity, we deal now with the foundation of our national life. We are facing elements of force, of right and wrong, of extreme national peril. Our present choice of path will be irrevocable. These traditions of isolation have been ended. The United States is now a part of a world system of civilization. We stand or fall as we prepare to take our parts in peace or war and hold our own therein."

"As members of an international community we are subject to certain basic duties."

"To secure the rights and equal treatment of our citizens, native or naturalized, on land and sea, without regard to race, creed or nativity. To guard the honor and uphold the just influence of our nation; to maintain the integrity of international law. These are the corner stones of civilization. We must be strong to defend them. The present war shows that it is the supreme duty of civilization to create conditions which will make peace permanent. Our country must be able and ready to take its part in that work. The peace which we desire for our country is not the peace of submission and cowardice, but the peace of justice."

"We earnestly desire to keep the peace, but there are higher things that we must keep, as Washington fact. They are to-day in concrete form before you and your fellows for your decision. For two years, in the face of the awful world cataclysm, this nation has stood supine and helpless and has not in the smallest degree prepared itself to ward off the danger. No promise, no excuse now made by those responsible for this action is entitled to consideration. It is for you and your assistants to show the people that they have a worthy alternative to which to turn.

"The professional German-Americans acting through various agencies, including so-called German-American alliances, are at this moment serving notice on the members of your convention that your action must be taken with a view to the interest, not of the United States but of Germany and of that section of the German-American vote which is anti-American to the core."

"I believe with all my heart that the action of these sinister, professional German-Americans will be repudiated with angry contempt by the great mass of our fellow citizens who are in whole or in part of German blood, and who are, as I well know, unimpaired in rugged and whole souled Americanism by any other citizens of our land."

"But the professional German-Americans are seeking to terrorize your convention; for they wish to elect next November a man who shall not be in good faith an American President, but the vicerey of a foreign government. It is for your convention in emphatic fashion to repudiate them."

"This can be done in effective manner only if such action is taken as to enable the Republicans, Progressives, Democrats who are true to the principles of Andrew Jackson, and Independents—in short, all loyal Americans—to join in the effort to reach the goal we all have in view."

"Can we not, forgetting past differences, now join for the safety and honor of our country to enforce the policies of genuine Americanism and genuine preparedness?"

"Surely we can afford to act in accordance with the words of Abraham Lincoln when he said: 'May not all, having a common interest, unite in a common effort to save our common country? May we ask those who have not differed with us to join in the same spirit toward those who have?'"

"As far as my own soul is known to me, it is in this same spirit that at this time I make my appeal to the Republicans and Progressives assembled at Chicago."

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

"Failure to deal firmly with the menace of Mexican disorders has brought conditions worse than war-fare and has weakened national self-respect. Every resource of the Government should be forthwith used to end those conditions and protect from outrage the lives, honor and property of American men and women in Mexico."

"Adequate provision for the common defense has become the task of foremost national concern. We must be ready in spirit, arms and industry."

"Preparation in arms requires: 'The navy once more second in battle efficiency; 'A regular army of 250,000 men, fully armed and trained, as a first line of land defense."

"A system of military training, adequate to organize with promptness, behind that first line of army and navy, a citizen soldiery supplied, armed and controlled by the National Government."

"In our democracy every male citizen is charged with the duty of defending his country. This duty is not new. It has existed from the foundation of the Government. Under modern conditions it cannot be performed without military training."

"Service without training means slaughter and disaster. As the nation has always recognized and exercised the right to enforce compulsory military service in time of war, so should there be universal military training for that service during times of peace."

"We should therefore give to every citizen opportunity for sufficient training at Federal expense to perform this duty effectively."

"We stand for peace, not war. We believe in preparedness for defense, but never for aggression. We should not sacrifice the lives of men for the glory or gain of military conquest."

We desire that the women of the country who bear and rear its soldiers and make and keep its homes shall have the full political right of suffrage."

"Arms alone cannot maintain a nation. Of far greater permanent importance must stand a national industry efficient for the general welfare, a prosperity justly distributed, the national life organized in all points for national ends. Four years ago this party was born of a nation's awakened sense of these fundamental truths. In the platform then adopted we set forth our position on public questions. We here reaffirm the declaration then made on national issues."

The platform also calls for the creation of a permanent expert tariff commission. It says:

"The protective system is essential to our national prosperity. Tremendous new pressure will be thrown upon our industries after the war by the highly mobilized production of Europe. At all times conditions of competition must be equalized between our own and foreign countries. We can only get the protection we need through the use of exact and complete knowledge, unaffected by prejudice and politics. We can only secure that knowledge at all times and when needed through such a commission."

"We must choose a man who, not alone by words, but by past deeds gives guarantee that he can and will make these things good. The issue is one of men. In the midst of world changes unparalleled in history we cannot forego the problems which will confront our Government during the war and at its end. We therefore need as President a leader who knows the nation, a man who acts. If we continue longer to stand for words as above deeds, for fancies as above facts, we shall receive and merit the fate that surely awaits the man or people who do not face the truth."

"We shall meet and work with any man or party who sees the nation's need and puts forward a leader fit to meet it. We will accept no less, in plan or in the man, and we solemnly charge upon any who place partisan politics above country the responsibility for a nation's future, sacrificed to self-interest and spoils."

HARD TIME TO HOLD PROGRESSIVES FROM NOMINATING "T. R."

past few days are now put aside. The moves are out in the open for the final clash of the main forces of the two conventions. The Progressive leaders canvassed the line-up at their conference this morning and from their post of observation the field of battle presented this situation. The contest centers solely between Hughes and Roosevelt.

A majority of regular Republican delegates are now rapidly drifting toward Hughes, but the Old Guard leaders do not want him to be nominated and are still striving to head him off. Favorite sons are urged to stand fast and keep enough delegates in their trenches to prevent nomination of either Hughes or Roosevelt.

The Roosevelt leaders have passed the word that if the Bull Moose herd will only wait until the Republicans make a nomination then the convention can take whatever action it wants.

"ALWAYS THE SHOUT WAS 'WE WANT TEDDY'."

Carrying huge American flags and banners, singing songs and shouting like wild Indians, delegations marched into Convention Hall. Across the aisles and rows of seats they shouted their war cries and college cries, always for Teddy.

Massachusetts entered with a football rush, shouting "Roosevelt! Roosevelt! Nominate him now, before it's too late!"

California whooped and howled back in derisive glee. Colorado delegates climbed on their seats and joined in the chorus. The band was blaring.

RAE TANZER TRIAL HALTED; OLIVER OSBORNE CAUSE?

Missing Witness, Mentioned by Attorney Shade, Rumored to Be Man of Mystery.

The trial of Rae Tanzer in the United States District Court on a charge of perjury growing out of her suit against Attorney James W. Osborne for $50,000 for alleged breach of promise was interrupted to-day after Benjamin Shade had been added to the defendant's counsel. Shade moved for a postponement of the trial on the ground of lack of preparedness. He stated that Attorney Harold Spiegelberg, who had been attorney for Miss Tanzer, had suddenly dropped out of the defense. Shade also stated that a mysterious witness for the defense was missing.

Court was adjourned and a conference was held in Judge Wolcott's chambers. The result of the conference was kept secret, but it was whispered about the court room that the missing witness was the mysterious Oliver Osborne.
